Sunday School Teacher—"The Lord made the world in six days, and on the seventh day He rested."

Little Willie—"I knew it—another Union man!"

A fat woman feels better than she looks.

In some particulars the world is no better, but you see very few roller towels now.

What is more costly than making history?

MONKEY BEE—ZNESS.
 If I could be a little bee,
 And flit upon the bower,
 I'd suck the honey from your lips
 And do it hour by hour.
 But since I have no such control,
 Upon my destiny,
 I want you not to go away,
 Yet please just let me be.

One girl went to the dedication of a new Methodist church the other night and was greatly disappointed because they didn't break a bottle of wine or something over the pulpit. She said she understood they always did something of that sort.

Some people's only claim to being artists is the beautiful pictures they paint of themselves.

When her mother is in the parlor, we sit
LIKE THIS.
 But after mother retires, we always sit

LIKETHIS.
 And sometimes (don't be shocked,) we sit

LIKE THIS.

Every time that Hiram Johnson gets ready to run for president, somebody comes along and moves the grandstand.

You never will become as popular as you were when you were a baby.

Dear Office Cat—I am a young man and am terribly afflicted with shyness. I find when I appear in public that I get self-conscious and always become tongue-tied when attempting to speak. What would you advise me to do? Alphonso.

Dear Alphonso—Your case is a common one. We would suggest that you attend the movies regularly and read the sub-titles out loud. This will either cure you or kill you.

Turn not thine eyes upon the backward way,
 Let us look forward into sunny days;
 Welcome with sunny heart the victory,
 Forget what it has cost thee.

THE REASON.
 "Ah," he exclaimed, as he pressed her tenderly to him at parting. "Shall I hold you in these arms again tomorrow, and paint our future with bright pigments of the imagination?"

"No," she said calmly, "Not tomorrow; tomorrow's wash day."

No horse ever balked as badly as an automobile does in real cold weather.

What do the flies do for social relaxation all winter when there are no picnics to attend?

Another advantage in being a grouch is that your friends buy their own cigarettes.

Not being up on new games, I supposed Mah Jongg was a new sort of reformer who had struck town.

MONUMENTS— Remember the dead. W. S. Cook & Co., with Lawrence E. Fry, Funeral Director, 924

American use several times more water than Europeans and the American family spends $10 for soap. It is assumed that the cleanest nation in the world is the one that uses the most water.

It is a safe bet that the cleanest nation in the world is the one that uses the most water.

THE WOMAN WHO CANS

It took the war to teach many of us the money value, the food value, and the pleasure to be got out of canning fruits and vegetables. Melita Crawley of Edgewood Farm, Mount Vernon, N. H., cans permanently and profitably. What was originally a summer home has grown into a successful business plant.

And in these days when news stories frequently play up the departure of industry from the great cities in search of handy raw material, it's interesting to compare Mrs. Crawley's wisdom in staying at the source of fresh supplies, five miles from the railroad though she is.

For those who are interested in the business details Mrs. Crawley says: "Peas are one of my chief crops and best sellers. Blanching I consider essential to the canning of all vegetables. Corn is fully as good a seller as peas. This is also a vegetable which is difficult to can successfully unless the same precautions are exercised as with peas. In the case of corn, handling and using corn of the right age. I try to keep all vegetables in a good healthy condition by frequent cultivation and top dressing with fertilizers, as vegetables grown quickly are more tender and of a far better flavor.

"I raise strawberries, raspberries, black raspberries and blackberries, which are used for preserves and jam. "I find as each year goes by I am tempted to cut down the variety of products I put up and try to handle larger quantities of the best sellers. But when one first starts out in such a business she is obliged to put up a larger variety in order to tell what will be the most profitable as well as sell the best.

"I would not advise any woman to take up this business unless she has a natural liking for out-of-door life and is physically able to do this sort of work. She will need stick-to-it-iveness, and patience, and must not be afraid to work. Such a business never becomes as monotonous as most office work. One should have enough to live and run the business on for at least two years before much return can be expected."

The sales force of the store of J. W. Berryman & Son spent an enjoyable evening at the home of Miss May Noble of Fayette City last evening, when about 20 in number gathered at the Noble home to make merry. The chief diversions of the evening were sewing, music and social converse along with a program of games. An excellent luncheon was served by the hostess assisted by her mother, Mrs. James Noble.

An interesting and enthusiastic meeting of the Crozier club was held in the church school room of St. Mary's Episcopal church last evening with an excellent attendance. A report was given of the conference of the Young People's league of the Pittsburgh Diocese, held Thursday, Feb. 1, at Wilkesburg, by the delegates who attended. Four new members were voted into the club namely: Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Von Bannister, Robert and Harry Allen. Farmers' Protection Bodies To Hold Annual Meeting In Court House Saturday

The Allied Farmers Protective Associations of Washington county will hold their annual meeting in the public meeting room of the court house on Saturday, March 1, at 10 o'clock a. m.

The qualified voters at this meeting are the present members of the advisory boards of the 22 sub-organizations of the various districts of the county. Any member of any of these organizations is invited to be present however, and take part in the discussion of matters that interest every farmer—taxes, roads, schools, hunting and trespass laws, game and the farmer's rights.

The election of officers for the next year will take place at this meeting and it is expected that a full attendance of representatives be present. A report of the last year's work will be given by the officers. Suggestions and complaints will be heard and action taken to carry out a progressive program in the interest of the farmer's business.

THE "WOLF WOMAN" WEEPS IN HER CELL

Chicago, Feb. 27.—(United Press)—The "Tiger girl," also known as the "Wolf Woman," weeps and shivers in her cell today, half hysterical with fright. Her self-assurance, bravado, and defiance are gone.

The judge and jury ruled that she must spend the rest of her life in the penitentiary for murder.

Katherine Baulk Malm is the girl for years the consort of a variety of crooks. She participated in many criminal escapades culminating in the killing of Edward Lehman, a night watchman, last November.

Stimulating Exercise Should Be Taken By Indoor Workers

Harrisburg, Feb. 26.—(United Press)—Former Health Commissioner Edward Martin, whose admonitions on exercise for public officials were the by-word of the Sprout administration wrote the health talk for the State Department of Health this week.

"Exercise, depending upon its violence and duration may have one of three effects: It may stimulate; it may fatigue or it may exhaust," says Col. Martin.

He continues: "Stimulating exercise is brief in duration. It leaves the one who takes it feeling more supple, more active and better prepared for sustained effort, either mental or physical. This form of exercise should be taken at least once a day by all brain and indoor workers."

"Fatiguing exercise leaves the one who takes it tired, mentally, physically, hungry for meals, sleepy and sleeping soundly with a feeling of refreshment afterward. It is good for the brain and indoor worker on his vacation and for the otherwise healthy over-fat."

"Exhausting exercise leaves the one who takes it dead tired, irritable, without appetite and sleeping heavily or fitfully with an all-in feeling on getting up in the morning. It is not good even for the trained young athlete."

IN MEMORIAM

In loving remembrance of our beloved husband and father, Gustave Cotton, who died one year ago today, Feb. 27, 1923.

A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we loved is stilled;
A place is vacant in our home,
Which never can be filled.
God, in His wisdom, has recalled
The boon his love had given,
And though the body slumbers here,
The soul is safe in heaven.
Sadly missed by his wife and children.

Women Voters Are To Discuss The Momentous Question Of Immigration

LITIGATION IS ACCIDENT SEQUEL

sold the defendant firm. The dispute arose over the fact that the goods were bought through a firm now bankrupt, Morgan Paint & Glass Co., but were shipped directly from the plaintiff company's plant. The defendants averred that their dealings was with Morgan Paint & Glass Co., and that payments on the bill were made to that firm. The plaintiff company claimed the Morgan Paint & Glass Co., was simply its agent, and that the defendants should have paid the plaintiff firm, and not the alleged agent.

It is understood that developments that came out during the case showed that the defendant firm still owed between $300 and $700 on the goods purchased, and that they were willing and ready to pay over this sum to the plaintiff firm. It was on this basis a settlement was reached.

Before Judge James I. Brownson the suit of Giovanni Masaro, et al, against Tony Sprelli was continued yesterday after the defense alleged surprise. The suit was brought in the name of a father and mother and son, and the plaintiffs withdrew all plaintiffs except the son. Following this action the continuance was secured. The suit involved title to a property in Monongahela. The defendants, it appears, are the real owners of the property in question and occupy the same, but the plaintiffs claim title under a certain alleged agreement of sale, now of record for the property in question.

The defendants admit entering into an agreement with the plaintiffs, but aver the same was cancelled and never carried out.

There was taken up, following this suit, the case of the Hupp heirs against the Lacey Coal Co., involving rent for use and occupancy of property of the plaintiffs for a siding to the coal company's property in West Bethlehem township. After some testimony was taken a verdict was taken by agreement for $300.
